

New Hampshire Possible is a shared, collaborative effort where stakeholders from across sectors and regions are coming together to create a brighter future for our state.

From healthcare costs to a rising tide of intolerance, from workforce shortages in key industries to the need for affordable and accessible childcare, New Hampshire Possible is bringing together key voices to engage in thoughtful dialogue and build on partners' emerging efforts, putting forth real solutions to our state's most urgent and intractable challenges. We don't see these problems as inevitable. We see possibility.

We are excited to work with audiences and stakeholders that include:

• Community Leaders and Organizations:

New Hampshire Possible is a megaphone through which local leaders and organizations can align and amplify our voices about how trends in our state are affecting communities, and a forum for us to connect with each other as we drive change.

• Parents, Caregivers, and Patients: Granite Staters who are directly interacting with our state's healthcare system as well as systems serving families with young children and older adults can share what they need from these systems with the leaders who are working to reshape them.

• Care Providers: Providers of healthcare, early childhood, and healthy aging services can use New Hampshire Possible to speak out on how these systems work at the frontlines, and to offer practical ideas for improving them.

• Large and Small Employers: Large and small employers can connect with each other and with other stakeholders through New Hampshire Possible to discuss how the current climate affects their workforce and to surface practical ideas for creating new jobs in the state.

• Industry Leaders: Industry leaders can connect with community stakeholders to identify shared points of interest as we create a New Hampshire economy where everyone can thrive.

• Granite State Residents: Residents from across the state can turn to New Hampshire Possible for reasoned, non-partisan discussion and civic engagement, creating a brighter Granite State future where every voice counts.

Learn more at www.NHPossible.org

